Relationship Violence and Addiction

with
Dave Franklin
(Ret. Royal Canadian Mounted Police)

With his unique viewpoint on abusive relationships and their effects upon the victim and the community, Dave will challenge and change the way you look at relationship violence and addiction. His presentations have led to policy and program improvements, changed police procedures and empowered victims, in Canada, the United States and around the world. This presentation is powerful, thought provoking, stimulating, entertaining, dynamic and most importantly, insightful and educational. Only by hearing it will you gain the understanding of what so many others have experienced.
