

JULY 2007 WEBSITE REPORT

ESSEX ALUMINUM

Hello everyone and welcome back to work. I hope you all had a good holiday. It still has not stopped, the company is hacking and whacking everywhere. You have to watch everything you do AND by all means you protect yourself at all times. If for any reason you do not feel safe or you feel you are in harms way, it is your right to refuse to do the job.

As most people are aware, the base head area is close to its end. By the looks of it right now they will be done pouring around September 1, 2007 but could be extended a week. Once they are done pouring they will take the time to clean up the Core room and the Tables. The clean end will go on for 2-3 weeks to push all the heads through the clean end. All and all this will affect about 60 people. Aug 17, 2007 19 people were cut because there is so much inventory and the rest will be displaced in September.

The new tables are running well with an average of over 30 mph. Again, this is because of the outstanding work that the brothers and sisters are doing. But you do have to remember it is a combination of 3 departments that makes all of this happen.
